WELCOME TO THE 2025 SCOTTDALE FALL FESTIVAL

The Scottdale Fall Festival has existed for 51 years. Although the festival has had many names over the last 51 years, the principles have never changed. This will be the 50th Festival due to the pandemic in 2020. The idea started with Scottdale's 100th-anniversary celebration. A group of local citizens created the celebration for the 100-year anniversary of the town. This group of people then decided to have an annual event called the Scottdale Coke Heritage Festival; 1974 was the first event. The festival would change names several times over the decades until its present-day name, Scottdale Fall Festival, which has remained for the past 26 years. This festival was created by the community of Scottdale, for the community of Scottdale.

Over the last 50 years, the festival has attracted people of all ages and helps promote local businesses in our community. This three-day celebration has many events such as a car show, live entertainment, a race, ethnic foods, children's area, and much more. The Scottdale Fall Festival committee thanks you for attending and making this event bigger and better each year!

Together, their voices blend seamlessly across genres, delivering a show that's as fun to watch as it is to hear.

Supporting the vocalists is a seasoned six-piece band: Nick Scanga on guitar, Chas Harris on drums, Tom Brenic on bass, Laura Daniels on keyboards, and father-son duo Dr. Ted DiSanti and Teddy DiSanti on trumpet and sax. With decades of combined experience in everything from Top 40 and jazz to musical theater and big band, this

Broom the Band

Broom is a 5-piece rock band from Belle Vernon, PA. All of the members of the band come from a strong classic rock influence, and that is obvious when you put on one of their songs. With a common thread but different passions, you can hear all of their touches with every song they play. Enjoy catchy hooks with rockin' riffs as the band sweeps you away with their high-energy music!

Broom was founded in 2020 with no huge aspirations. They were just a group of friends who wanted to jam together and maybe play some shows. However, once the core lineup of Race Michener (vocals), Bodie DuBreucq, Ben Filak (both guitar), Caleb Beichner (bass) and Carter Stasicha (drums) was set in stone, the band realized they had something special in their hands. With influences ranging from 60s classic rock to modern progressive metal, the band's tone has grown into an incredibly unique yet accessible arena rock sound.

Franchise Band

The Franchise Band, based in Pittsburgh and performing across the Tri-State area, brings unmatched energy and style to every stage. Known for their genre-spanning sets of pop, R&B, hip-hop, funk, and rock, they keep the dance floor packed from the first note to the last. Since forming in 2020, they've earned a loyal following and serious accolades, including being named Best R&B Band by Pittsburgh City Paper in 2023 and a top-three finalist for Best Cover Band two years running. Whether they're covering old-school favorites or fresh hits, their smooth transitions, tight arrangements, and high-octane showmanship make for an electrifying live experience.

The band is fronted by powerhouse vocalists John Vincent Booth, Francis Hodge, and Tyler Humphries-Randolph, whose dynamic voices and commanding stage presence elevate every performance. Behind them is a stellar lineup of musicians: Keith Flowers (music director and keys), PJ Mack (auxiliary keys), Bryan Persinger (guitar), Clarence Sherrill (bass), and Calvin Murphy (drums). Each member brings deep roots in performance, from studio sessions to touring stages, and together they create a sound that's as polished as it is contagious. It employs many of the features that made the earlier BIGFOOT #18 successful, with some tweaks and improvements. It has a low center of gravity chassis, long-travel shocks, and an even longer wheelbase than the earlier BIGFOOT trucks. This BIGFOOT also utilizes “zoom-ie” headers, giving it a very loud and unique sound as compared to other BIGFOOT trucks. Veteran driver Larry Swim won the 4-Wheel Jamboree Series in 2016 and the Toughest Monster Truck Tour in 2018 in this truck. They are currently touring the U.S.

Stop by one of the awesome food vendors and pull up a spot ringside for a slamming good time as MVP presents THE SCOTTDALE SLAMFEST as part of the Scottdale Fall Festival. Bring the whole family out for a fun filled day and meet your favorite MVP SuperStars. You may even see a few people you know get their shot in the MVP ring. MVP has been delivering family-friendly pro-wrestling entertainment for shows and community events since 2008 and is honored to have the opportunity to be a part of this amazing event.

Gel Blaster is a new revolution in the world of shooting games that is very similar to Airsoft or Paintball but much more low impact. The soft, water-based gellyballs bounce off of their target leaving no stain, mess or sting. Unlike Nerf where it takes time to reload often, gel blasters hold around 700 shots without reloading! They're easy to shoot, and they can provide hours of fun! Recommended for ages 5 and up.

Coal & Coke Trail

As we enjoy the Scottdale Fall Festival, it's a great time to celebrate another local gem: the Coal & Coke Trail. This trail is more than a scenic path, it's a neighborhood connector that weaves through town and history all at once.

Stretching just over 5 miles from Mount Pleasant to Scottdale, the trail rides along the old Pennsylvania Railroad corridor once used to haul coal and coke out of Scottdale and across the region. Now, it offers residents and visitors a peaceful way to walk, bike, jog, or even cross-country ski in winter; among woods, creeks, and quiet rail-trail charm.

What makes the Coal & Coke Trail special is how it connects people. Local volunteers (through the Coal & Coke Trail Chapter of the Regional Trail Corporation) maintain it, run clean-ups, hold family events, and even plan fun fundraisers like Comedy Night to keep it vibrant and maintained. On National Trails Day this past summer, they hosted a community hike/bike from both Scottdale and Mount Pleasant trailheads. It was a beautiful example of how the trail brings neighbors together.

Along the way, the trail passes by Jacob's Creek, winding through shaded woodlands, wetlands, and even remnants of old coke ovens. These historic touches remind us of Scottdale's roots in the coal and coke industry that once powered America's steel mills.

Whether you're walking your dog, training for a 5K, taking the kids out for a stroll, or enjoying a leisurely bike ride, the Coal & Coke Trail is a friendly, local route that's easy to explore, right in our own backyard. It's one of those simple joys that makes small-town life feel rich.

The Cash Out Show

The Cash Out Show is an original and energetic tribute to the music of Johnny Cash and The Tennessee Three. Fronted by guitarist and singer Shawn Fogle, The Cash Out Show brings to life classic Cash songs from the Sun & Columbia Records to the modern American recordings. With Shawn Fogle fronting the band on vocals and guitar, the line up includes longtime friend and co-owner Mark Lee on Acoustic guitar, Ken Kelner on drums, and Keith Gamble on the stand up bass.

Part Time Cowboys

Part Time Cowboys may wear cowboy boots and bring the twang, but don't let the name fool you this band is full-time talent. Known for their solid country sound with a modern edge. Rooted in the rich traditions of classic country, PTC delivers crowd-pleasing sets filled with songs you know and love, along with fresh takes on today's hits. But that's just the beginning. These musical pros aren't afraid to blur the genre lines. Their setlists often include unexpected favorites like a little rock and roll or a lively polka or two, all delivered with the same authenticity and skill that keeps audiences coming back for more. Part Time Cowboys always bring the party. Whether you're a die-hard country fan or just love great live music, this group guarantees a boot-stomping, heart-thumping good time.

Jacobs Creek Watershed Association

As we come together for another beautiful Scottdale Fall Festival, it's the perfect time to show some love to one of our most dedicated local partners in conservation and community care: the Jacobs Creek Watershed Association (JCWA).

For years, JCWA has been working behind the scenes (and sometimes right in the stream!)

to protect and improve the natural resources that run through our town. Their work is rooted in the idea that a healthy environment means a healthier, stronger community, and they've put that belief into action here in Scottdale time and time again. But what really makes JCWA stand out is their commitment to education and community involvement. They've partnered with local schools, volunteers, and residents to offer hands-on learning experiences and public events that bring people closer to nature. Whether it's guiding a group of students through a watershed walk or hosting workshops on rain barrels and native plants, they're always encouraging us to be part of the solution.

In a time when open spaces and clean water can sometimes be taken for granted, JWCA reminds us that caring for our environment is a community effort and they've made Scottdale a better, greener place through that care.

So this weekend, as you enjoy the festival, take a moment to appreciate the creeks, trees, and trails that help make our town so special and the people working hard to protect them.

Have a Wonderful Festival!

Scottdale Historical Society

Looking back, the SHS completed the 150th celebrations during the 2024 Fall Festival. Since then, May 2025 the Society held a "Cake Walk", a fun and well received fundraiser. The hometown bakers showcased beautiful and tasty sweets. At the July Block Party, the society hosted the second open house at the former Scottdale Savings and Trust. Town history and memorabilia were displayed, and an interactive "Slot Machine game" was held for all ages. The Loucks Homestead continues to be part of our community. There was an open house and family activities during the August Picnic in the Park. The former bank will again be part of the Fall Festival 2025. During the festival the SHS will host our second annual Plein Air Art Contest/Show. Talented artists will showcase our town with their original works of art in the Elks Club

Looking forward, The Scottdale Historical Society learned the town's nativity was deteriorating and beyond repair. Our President Lindy House worked with the Borough officers and created a fundraiser. Those efforts have realized a larger display than hoped for and will be a wonderful display on the corner of Pittsburgh and Broadway Streets this holiday season. The first Saturday in December, plans are moving forward for our annual Christmas House tour showcasing our town's beautiful homes, churches and architecture. For "Start the Season in Scottdale" the society will host our third annual parking meter contest.

Please share our mission to collect, preserve and archive the Scottdale area's rich cultural, industrial and architectural history for the enjoyment and education of present and future generations.

Lindy House

Lindy will be taking over as president of the Scottdale Historical Society. Tom Zwierzelewski, was president from 2019-25.

Words from Lindy: When my family and I moved to Scottdale, we fell in love with the rich architecture and history but mostly with the people. The heart of this community beats strong & steady. You can see it every time a neighbor pitches in to lend a hand, when our history is celebrated or fond memories are shared, and it's there when you stop to chat or give a wave as you pass each other on the street. While there are areas that need attention, my hope for Scottdale's future isn't tied to one project or grand plan. It's about our communities mindset and helping to grow our sense of pride in where we live. The more we recognize what makes this place special, the more we will protect it, celebrate it, and help it grow. The main goal that I will be working towards is to make it easier for people to get involved, to feel included, and to see the good that's in their own backyard. Home-town pride comes from doing things together, even the small things.

Safety Saturday

The Scottdale Fall Festival Children's Committee is proud to offer a special opportunity this year to help educate children of all ages on when and how to seek help in emergencies.

We're excited to welcome Paws for Safety, a program created by Officer Jeff Stahl and his wife. Their mission is to build safer communities one lesson, one hand, and one paw at a time.

Through engaging and impactful safety sessions, they teach essential life skills using certified therapy and service dogs to create a memorable, hands-on learning experience.

In addition to Paws for Safety, we're thrilled to partner with the Scottdale Police Department. Children will have the chance to meet a local officer and learn about Stranger Danger, who is safe to talk to, and what to do if approached by someone they don't know.

We look forward to these important and engaging sessions and hope they leave a lasting impression on our young attendees and their families.

Scottdale Police Department

As we celebrate another year of fun, tradition, and togetherness at the Scottdale Fall Festival, we want to take a moment to recognize a group of people who help make this community feel like home, the Scottdale Police Department.

This past year has been full of change and continued dedication. After 34 years of service, Chief Barry Pritts retired, leaving behind a legacy of leadership rooted in care, consistency, and community trust. Under his leadership, the department built strong relationships with residents, something the team continues to prioritize today.

With three new officers joining the force, the department has continued to grow while staying grounded in what matters most: keeping the lines of communication open and staying connected with the people they serve. Whether it's lending a hand during an emergency or simply taking time to chat with residents at a local event, our officers are always present, approachable, and engaged.

One thing that sets the Scottdale Police Department apart is how involved they are outside of traditional policing. They're not just patrolling the streets, they're part of the heartbeat of the community. Over the past year, they've helped organize and support events like National Night Out, which brings neighbors together for a night of fun and safety awareness, and Shop with a Cop, which helps brighten the holidays for local families. They also play a huge role in making events like parades, festivals, and block parties run smoothly and safely.

At the core of everything they do is a genuine commitment to community. They understand that safety isn't just about quick response times, it's also about trust, conversation, and being there before you're even needed. Their open-door approach and consistent communication with residents help keep Scottdale not just safe, but strong. So while you're enjoying the sights, sounds, and flavors of the Fall Festival this weekend, take a moment to thank one of our officers. Whether they're helping direct traffic, saying hello at a booth, or just keeping a watchful eye, you'll see them. And we're all better for it.
